Andrew Furuseth School of Seamanship Non-Discrimination Policy

This will serve as notice that there shall be no discrimination of any kind among members or registrants aboard ship, among members or registrants in the hiring halls, or among members, registrants or trainees enrolled in any course within the Sailors' Union of the Pacific training program. The Sailors' Union of the Pacific does not tolerate discrimination on any basis, including age, race, national origin, sex, religion, sexual preference, disability, prior job experience, and prior union membership or lack thereof, whether stated or implied. All sailors shall treat each other equally and with mutual respect.

Sailors in violation of this policy may be expelled from the training and are subject to such punishment as a Trial Committee may determine up to and including expulsion from the Union.

I understand the above policy and agree to comply.

Letter of Commitment

The Sailors' Union of the Pacific, together with contributing employers to the Andrew Furuseth School of Seamanship, have established a training program to meet the specific training needs of SUP contracted companies.

This training requires a significant investment on the part of the Union and the Andrew Furuseth School of Seamanship. In order to fulfill its contractual obligations, your Union requires the commitment of all prospective trainees in the following fashion:

- 1) A member or registrant who completes training shall hereby agree to accept employment aboard vessels for which successful training was completed.
- 2) A member or registrant who completes the training agrees that he/she shall accept employment aboard vessels in cases of activation, mobilization or national emergency, or when so requested by the Union.
